

Eden Tremayne – Soprano; Vancouver, BC

Soprano, Eden Tremayne has completed her Master's Degree in Opera Performance at the University of British Columbia, where she studied under Heather Thomson-Price. Most recently Eden has been selected as the resident soprano in Vancouver Opera's Yulanda M. Faris Young Artists Program for the 2015/2016 season. She had her Vancouver Opera debut as Countess Ceprano and the Page as well as understudied Gilda in Verdi's Rigoletto in September. She also sang the role of Soprano in Tom Johnson's 4 Note Opera in October with the Yulanda M. Faris young artists. In November/December Eden appeared as Lucinda in Vancouver Opera's production of Nico Muhly's Dark Sisters. Most recently she sang Kate Pinkerton in VOA's production of Puccini's Madama Butterfly. She will finish the Vancouver Opera season by understudying the role of Mistress in Andrew Lloyd Webber's, Evita.

Eden has sung the roles of Antonia in Les Contes d'Hoffmann, Lisa from The Land of Smiles, Mère Gerald in Dialogues des Carmélites and Mary Warren in Robert Ward's The Crucible with UBC Opera as well as Gianetta in L'elisir d'amore and Najade in Strauss's Ariadne auf Naxos with Opera NUOVA. She also sang Susanna in Mozart's Le nozze di Figaro with the Vancouver/Victoria Coaching Intensive led by Luke Housner from the Academy of Vocal Arts in Philadelphia.

In 2013 Eden received runner-up in the UBC Concerto Competition and was featured as a soloist with the UBC Symphony Orchestra where she sang Schubert's Der Erlkönig, orchestrated by Berlioz. In addition, Eden won the Johann Strauss Competition in Vancouver which funded her studies at the Mozarteum International Summer Academy in Salzburg. In 2013 and 2014 Eden received the Encouragement Award from the Metropolitan Opera National Council Auditions in Vancouver. Eden performed as a selected laureate in the Jeunes Ambassadeurs Lyriques concerts and Gala in Montréal last November and most recently she has been a winner of the Vancouver Opera Guild Bursary Award.

Eden looks forward to singing the role of Violetta Valery in La Traviata with Jeunesses Musicales in Montréal during the 2016/2017 season!
